Indepth seminars are a no-cost benefit you can offer your employees, and realize advantages for your organization, too.

Great money managers make great employees

Research shows a correlation. Employees with good money management skills are more productive, have less absenteeism, use little work time for personal financial matters and have better job performance ratings.

Interra makes it convenient

The Indepth seminars are held at the workplace, making it easy for your employees to participate. On-site programs send a message to your employees that you care about their overall well-being – including financially.

The seminars are on us

There is no cost to you or your employees for the seminars. Our seminar programs come with handouts (as needed), refreshments and prizes.

Expert presenters

We've been doing this for a long time. Interra Credit Union has a long history of providing financial education programs to members, groups and in area schools. Your employees will benefit from people who know what they're talking about. They will bring experiences and stories to share that help your employees relate to the information.

Customizable

If you or your employees are interested in a topic that isn't on the list, we'll do the leg work and prepare a seminar for you.
